

That I May Know Him
~Pressing On~

I got to seek Him no matter what the cost
I got to seek Him yes the Lord
The One that rescue me when I was lost
He is the One that paid the price
He is the One that made the perfect sacrifice
Yes don't you hear
The Lord wants to draw near
He is knocking at the door
Yes my Lord my heart is open even more then before
That I may know Him
So the light will shine brighter and things would not seem so dim

I must continue on in this race
I must endure and allow the Lord to set the pace
There is so much to learn about my Lord
Oh yes I know He is someone I truly adored
This is why I am pressing on day by day
I refuse to allow Satan, people or flesh to stand in my way
Teach me Lord what I need to know about you
That I may live this life fully and know what to do

Yes I am getting to know Him the Great I Am
Yes the perfect sacrificed lamb
So I keep on pressing both day and night
Sometimes situations try to block me
But I got to keep pressing indeed and fight
Knowing the Messiah is my ultimate desire
He is the rich treasure and the best pleasure
